HIGHLIGHTS

Flanked by the escarpment on one side and the mighty Zambezi River on the other, Lower Zambezi National Park is an extraordinary wilderness. Lush channels branch from larger rivers and weave through ancient forests, creating a haven for wildlife and birdlife. Wide open pans and tranquil riverbanks create a backdrop for dramatic wildlife action. The region is especially wonderful for large, relaxed herds of elephants, diverse birdlife, predator encounters, especially endangered wild dogs, and large pods of hippos.

Canoeing safaris are great all year. During the driest months of August to November, wildlife congregates along the river.

Fishing is good year round, but peaks in October and November during the breeding season.

Lion and leopard sightings pick up as the bush dries out and the visibility improves.

The peak walking safari season is July to October.

GREAT ALL SEASON

- + Birdwatching - over 370 species
